Superintendent's Report

To the School Board of Seabrook:

I herewith submit to you my sixth annual report as superintendent of your schools.

In accord with the vote of the Seabrook School District meeting of April 1934 the school report is included in the annual town report. The school meeting also directed that a double report should be made—that is a report of the last completed school year, as has always been done, and a second report to cover the receipts and expenditures of the first half of the current year. This will mean a double reporting of the first half of the year 1935 and 1936 as the same amounts will appear in the total report of the next year. I am calling attention to this fact to aid in the interpretation of present and future printed figures.

The district meeting of 1935 appropriated $2,500. toward the building of an additional wing to your South School. At that time it was understood that the federal government, through its public works administration, would appropriate about 40 percent toward the cost of such an addition. In conjunction with the works administration at Portsmouth and the State Office at Concord plans for such a wing were drawn by an approved architect and the necessary application papers filled out. These have been sent to the state office and we understand have been approved by both that office and the administration at Washington. It is my understanding that, if workers are available, the project can be started in the spring of 1936. At any rate, we are planning for this much needed room as the present crowded condition of the building must bring unsatisfactory results from a social and health standpoint as well as in scholarship. The present emphasis in education is toward a more individualized instruction. With enrollment in several of your school rooms above the forty mark it is evident that individual work is nearly impossible.

With the opening of the new room next September we are hoping to group the pupils of the school into ability groups so that those pupils who learn more easily than the average, of whom there are many in Seabrook, may be offered an enriched curriculum without discouraging the average or slow pupil. This cannot be done under present conditions. The only alternative is a leveling down of the work of the brilliant pupil.

In crowded rooms, ventilation becomes a vital problem of health. Your school rooms can be heated but the large number of pupils and the low ceilings compel a continuous flow of fresh air. To accomplish better results and still protect those pupils near the windows, glass wind deflectors have been placed in each room. In this way fresh air is continually entering the room and being forced upward above the heads of the pupils. This is a worth-while health measure.

The condition of our school books has been far from satisfactory. Books used by different pupils for from ten to fifteen years are unsafe to be presented to our children. Books with leaves frequently missing are not conducive to good study habits on the part of the pupils. Furthermore, text books are continually improving in teachability and in accord with improved knowledge of the way in which pupils learn. In most subjects a book written ten years ago is far inferior to that written recently. The older book contains none of the results of investigations and research that are continually being made by thousands of educators all over the world. Our children must compete with those who have had the advantage of the modern equipment. In order that the children of Seabrook may have the same advantages as children of other towns and cities we have bought a larger number of books than usual. These include Geographies, Historics, English books and some Arithmetics.

There are three definite guarantees to the people of Seabrook that their schools are well up to standard. These three guarantees are: a good staff of teachers, the achievement of the pupils as proven by tests and the work done by our graduates when they go ahead to a secondary school.

The first guarantee is furnished by two facts. Seabrook keeps its experienced teachers and does not allow itself to be simply a training ground for inexperienced workers. Of the ten teachers at present in our schools all but three have been here over five years. Several of these have served much larger towns. Furthermore, all of the teachers are now qualified for the highest form of teacher certification granted by the State of New Hampshire.

The second guarantee is a practical testing program. The best instruments at present are standardized tests. It is our purpose that all pupils shall be given at least one battery of tests each year in the fundamental subjects. These tests are nationwide in character and are given to thousands of school children each year. They guarantee an impersonal grading of all pupils.

The third guarantee of the high standing of our schools is the character of the work done by our graduates. The Seabrook children attending high school do uniformly good work. Our pupils may leave because of cost of transportation of some other good reason but rare is the pupil who fails his first year's work.

Seabrook, as in the past few years, has the lowest per pupil cost in the state, according to figures given out by the State Department of Education. Costs of the Seabrook schools are $40.52 as compared with the state average of $76.93. Of the $40.52 elementary per pupil cost the State of New Hampshire pays $18.00 making the actual elementary costs to the people of Seabrook about $22.52.

Mr. Norman Leavitt is again Music instructor in the schools of the town. Seabrook children have much natural ability in music and are enthused by the work as outlined by Mr. Leavitt. They are learning not only to sing but to enjoy listening to good music.

The overcrowded condition of our schools makes necessary the employing of an additional teacher. If our children are to receive the education to which they are entitled the teacher must be employed regardless of the possibility that federal money may not be forthcoming. The number of children in each school is included in the statistical report following.

I wish to express to you my appreciation of kindly advice and help received from you as a board.

Respectfully submitted,

ROY W. GILLMORE,

Superintendent of Schools.

February 20, 1936.
